Lagoon 42

Lagoon 42, aka Maralyn, is a cruising catamaran with a four-cabin layout. It is renowned for its distinctive blend of curves and sleek design. It is visually appealing and offers a delightful experience for sailing or onboard lounging. This catamaran is ideal for a family or two, or a close-knit group of friends seeking to explore the Andaman Islands, embarking on short island hops, or venturing a bit farther.

The yacht's deck is thoughtfully designed to enhance onboard circulation, with wide transoms facilitating easy boarding from a dock or dinghy, and single-level cockpit accessible via just two low steps. Its dinette comfortably accommodates eight, while a cozy lounge to port is perfect for a couple, complemented by small seating.

Meanwhile, Lagoon 42's cabins feature a double island bed and ensuite bathroom. The port bow compartment is configured with an additional bunk for extra sleeping quarters, and the salon sofa can be converted into a double berth.
